STRIKING GOLD IN

The Isaac Region

Reconnect with The Isaac Region's resource heritage and try your hand at striking fortune in Queensland's famous gold rush town.

For nearly 160 years, the lure of gold has drawn eager prospectors to the central Queensland town of Clermont.

The discovery triggered one of Queensland's major gold rushes. 290km south-west of Mackay, Clermont's heritage, with its tales of tragedy, triumph and treasure continue to intrigue visitors both young and old. This is Queensland's most accessible goldfields and with their alluvial gravels, makes it ideal to strike it lucky and win the gold from the ground.

Visitors need only a metal detector, a pick, a fossicking Licence, maps of the local General Permission Areas, basic bush safety gear and an adventurous spirit to take advantage of this modern-day goldrush.

Re-live the gold rush era at Mt Britton - Nebo

Walk in the footsteps of the gold rush pioneers at Mount Britton, a once-thriving gold mining town established in 1880. While the buildings are long gone, the old grid of streets are dotted with interpretive signage that retains a sense of what once existed. Explore the old mining relics and visit the nearby pioneers' cemetery. Rumours have it that Mount Britton's big vein has never been found.

Approximately 35 minutes-drive north-east of Nebo, it's an easily accessible area offering the opportunity for day trippers or self-sufficient campers to pull up, relax and explore more of the area. With no fees or time limits, the expansive grassy camp provides water, picnic shelters and a toilet. Mt Britton's is a relaxing retreat where you can relive a rich history, stoke a campfire and awaken to unbelievable scenes.

A lookout above camp provides great views of the surrounding landmarks that explorer William Landsborough named in 1856: Mount Britton, the Marling Spikes' weather-beaten trio of rock spires, and the dazzling Sydney Heads with sheer cliffs that glow with vibrant yellow and red shades as the sun rises and sets.
